

Jesus told a story of a man who had two sons. The younger one didn't want to wait for his inheritance, he wanted his money now!

Dad was so excited just to have his son home! He put him in new clothes, fetched the best food and threw a big party to welcome him back!

This made his dad very sad. But he gave his son his share of the money and off he went....

One day he thought to himself, "This is crazy, even my dad's servants are better off than me! I'll go home and ask if I can be one of the servants." But ever since he left his Dad had been watching out for him and came running down the road to greet him!

He spent all his money on throwing crazy parties for all his friends. He thought he was having the time of his life! But soon the money ran out, and all of his friends disappeared...

He was far away from home. He had no money, no job and nowhere to live. He got a job with the local pig farmer and was so hungry he almost ate the pigs' food.
